TRIO OF ROBBERS PUT TO DEATH ON KANSAS GALLOWS

Had Killed Policeman In Bank Robbery During G. O. P. Convention

By RICHARD L. HARKNESS (United Press Staff Correspondent) Kansas City, Mo., July 25.—(UP)—A gallows trap was sprung in the execution chamber of the county jail here today and three men, convicted of murdering a patrolman during a bank robbery, fell simultaneously through a yard-square opening to their death.

The trap, which hurled Tony Lollypop, Mangiaracina, Carl Nasello and John Messino, to a common fate at the end of three ropes, was released at 6:05 A. M.

Nasello was pronounced dead at 8:23, and his two companions at 8:24 A. M.

The men walked erectly to their death. All were smiling.

The hoods were adjusted and the men said their good-byes.

"Good-bye gang," each called just before the trap fell.

The drama attracted nation-wide attention because the Republican National Convention was in session in Kansas City.

Victim Was Popular

It became a heated local issue because of the popularity of the murdered patrolman, James H. "Happy" Smith, traffic director near the Home Trust Company which was held up just prior to the shooting.

The doomed men, whose arms were lashed behind them immediately after the reading of the death warrant in their cells, were lined up single file on the trap. Three black squares were painted on the gallows floor. The men stood on these, close together.

Father Frank G. McGowan gave them their last religious consolation. Death masks were adjusted quickly. At a signal, five electrical buttons were pressed in another room and the trap fell automatically.

Silent Hour End

As the hour for reading the death warrant approached the three men became silent. They had been given a radio while in death row. For days they turned to lively music. For their confessional they preferred pathetic selections. The last day the radio was silent.

Nasello had asked for a solace from a Father McCormick, priest of his boyhood church. He was told Father McCormick died in 1924.

The crime for which the three were hanged shocked the city. On June 14, 1928, six men entered the Home Trust Company, obtained more than $19,000 and fled before a barrage of tear gas.

The morning rush hour jammed the business district as the bandit automobile roared northward.

The robbers fled wildly as they tore away, and Patrolman Smith, a traffic officer near the bank, was wounded mortally. Another patrolman and two pedestrians were wounded.

Dixon Golfers Are Beaten In Sterling

Twenty-five members of the Dixon Golf Club played an inter-city tournament match on the Rock River Golf grounds at Sterling yesterday and were defeated by a score of 39 to 31.

Quite a number of Dixon's strongest players were unable to attend. The low score for the Dixon players was 76 for the 18 holes by L. G. Rorer, with Wilson Dysart and E. B. Raymond second, with score of 77.

The condition of the fairways on the course was rather uninviting on account of dry weather which has scorched the grass and turf and left chip shots and wood club fairway shots almost impossible. The greens on the Rock River course are in excellent condition and a very enjoyable afternoon was experienced by all the players.

The Dixon players were guests of the Sterling Club at a banquet given at 6:30 in the evening and a return game with Sterling on the Dixon course will be played at a later date.

Lowest Pay To Road Workers In Illinois

Springfield, Ill., July 25.—(UP)—Reports that contractors in building state roads were paying common laborers a wage as low as 17¢ an hour, have been branded as false by Director H. H. Cleaveland of the State Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Cleaveland said he had investigated the reports and had established the fact that the lowest wage being paid by a contractor is 27¢ an hour, while the top wage is 50¢ an hour.

"Under the law," Cleaveland said, "the Department of Public Works and Buildings can only award contracts to the lowest responsible bidder, therefore it can not advise contractors to raise or lower bids or set a standard of wages to be paid their employees."

Galena Ave. Bridge Will Be Repaired

The Galena Avenue bridge is to undergo much needed repairs, Commissioner Louis Schumm stated today. The walks on both sides of the bridge have reached a point where they are considered dangerous to foot passengers, and the driveway has received no major repair for many months and has become very rough.

Some new planks have been placed in the walks but Commissioner Schumm plans to have all of the planking taken up, the good planks salvaged and relaid and both walks placed in a safe condition for pedestrians. In several places water has seeped beneath the concrete block floor of the driveway, causing bumps and depressions. There are to be smoothed down as much as possible and the entire drive treated to a thick coat of tarva dressing. Both the improvement to the walks and driveway have been needed for many months, and it is expected that the work will be started within a few days.

CAREFREE THRILLS TURN TO GRIM TRAGEDY WHEN ROLLER COASTER OMAHA GAVE WAY UNDER LOAD

Omaha, Neb., July 25.—(UP)—Carefree thrills that turned to tragedy when a roller coaster train leaped for mits perilous course, carrying three persons to death and injuring 24, three probably fatally, were described today for a coroner's jury.

Ruth Farrell, 14, and C. H. Stout, 50, were killed instantly last night as the cars hurtled from the coaster tracks at the start of a sharp descent and crumpled in the framework of supports below.

Tony Politkas, 23, died in a hospital early today.

Seventeen of the 24 injured were unconscious when taken to hospitals and little hope was held today for the recovery of two. The most severely hurt was unidentified.

Four cars of the pleasure seekers had been joined together. As the train slowly approached the top of the steep incline, a crowd gathered to watch the breath taking dip.

Reorganization Of The Department Follows Buckley Murder

BULLETIN.

Detroit, July 25.—(AP)—A young woman whose name was withheld was taken into custody today as a police witness in the killing of Jerry Buckley, radio announcer.

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—(AP)—Police axes fell heavily on saloons, race track handbooks and beer flats throughout Detroit last night in a series of raids which started after Police Commissioner Thomas C. Wilcox had abolished the centralized vice squad.

Wilcox announced his change in policy to the city council when the latter called on him to tell what was being done to find the men responsible for the killing of Jerry Buckley, radio operator, and for other recent crimes.

The duty of suppressing vice was thrown back on precinct inspectors, from whom it had been taken early in the administration of Mayor Chas. Bowles. The various precincts hastily organized raiding squads and started out late in the afternoon.

The raids resulted in the arrest of 133 men and 400 women. In places where liquor or betting apparatus was found the squads broke up furniture and fixtures ruthlessly.

Many saloons and gambling houses were reported to have closed before the raiders reached them.

Tributes to Buckley

Twenty thousand persons waited silently in line last night and early today to pay tribute to the memory of Buckley, announcer for radio station WMBC, slain Wednesday by gangsters at the close of the successful campaign to recall Mayor Bowles.

Police sought to connect Buckley with racketeering and claimed to have an affidavit which states that he extorted money from a confessed bootlegger. Persons he had aided financially sent scores of floral tributes. The management of station WMBC announced that telegrams had been received from listeners in all sections of the midwest, expressing sorrow and sympathy at Buckley's death.

Jerry Buckley in his radio address had championed the causes of the poor, advocating old age pensions and unemployment relief. Many floral tributes came from poor people, it was announced.

Seven men were in custody in connection with the slaying of Buckley. Police said they expected to issue a warrant for one of them before the day was over.

The order of the commission, granting the company's request, followed an extensive hearing at which the complaints of landowners along the proposed route were heard. The principles brought forth in the commission's order have been sustained by the State Supreme Court on numerous occasions.

COOK COUNTY GRAND JURORS EXPRESS CONFIDENCE IN JNO. STEGE, DEPOSED DETECTIVE

That's Only Information from Investigation Of Racketeering

Chicago, July 25.—(UP)—Three phases of the investigation growing out of the Alfred J. Lingde murder moved forward on as many fronts today, almost seven weeks after the Chicago Tribune reporter was assassinated by a left-handed, silk-gloved gangster.

The Cook county grand jury pursued its investigation into charges that certain Chicago newspapermen are racketeering as well as reporting by calling more newspapermen and police officials before it.

William F. Russell, deposed as Police Commissioner during the height of the Lingde investigation, was the first grand jury witness. He remained in the grand jury room an hour and then Walter Strong, publisher of the Chicago Daily News was called.

Capt. John Stege, ousted as Chief of Detectives at the same time Russell was deposed was the third witness. All of them declined to reveal what they told the grand jury.

Stege, after testifying an hour and a half, was given a vote of confidence by the grand jury.

Confidence in Stege.

Bernard DeCry, real estate dealer-foreman, said the grand jury "has the utmost confidence in Capt. Stege, believes he has done his duty at all times and is an efficient policeman."

Meanwhile in felony court, Judge John Sbarbaro held Leo Shoemer, Herald and Examiner circulation man, and H. Goodman, railroad employee, to the grand jury to answer charges that they engaged with Matt Foley, also a Herald and Examiner circulation department employee, in a fake sweepstakes ticket, promotion scheme on the Kentucky Derby.

Frank Foster, deadshot gangster, appeared in court on a bond motion, and hearing and trial were set for July 30. Foster, who is owner of the stubby gun used to murder Lingde, was sent back to the county jail. He has been indicted on charges of murder.

His body will be brought from Clinton, overland Saturday and will be taken to the family lot in Binghamton cemetery, where committal services will be conducted at 1:30 o'clock by Rev. Galloway of the M. E. church. The deceased was a veteran of the Civil War and members of the American Legion will honor him with their presence at the burial service.

Mr. Pettierew was a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Pettierew, early settlers of Amboy, and he is survived by two brothers, Sylvester of Kinderhook, La., and Frank of Amboy; four sisters, Mrs. Olive Cole of Joliet, Mrs. Amy Maine of Los Angeles, Mrs. Alice Jusley of Clinton, Ill., and Mrs. Ella Walter of Amboy.

Heat To Continue Through Saturday

Chicago, July 25.—(AP)—The task of writhing about the weather descended upon the newspapers again as a new hot wave rolled over the middle west with 90 degree temperatures ruling the crest.

It was 92 in the Chicago area by 11 A. M. and the official forecast said the mercury likely would reach 98 during the afternoon. The forecast also said it would be continued hot tomorrow with relief probably arriving by Sunday.

There was some prospect of a shower late today but the weather man said even that would not quench the heat wave.

In Nebraska, temperatures were nearing 90 during the forenoon and still rising. Thunderstorms were imminent in various sections.

Temperatures over Kansas ranged from 95 to 100 despite scattered rains. It was somewhat cooler in Missouri where there also was scattered thunderstorms.

Druggan Denies He's Found Dead In Miss.

Chicago, July 25.—(AP)—Terry Druggan, the former beer baron, refuted the identification of a body found at Brookhaven, Miss., by informing a newspaper reporter today that he remains alive and well.

His attorney had said earlier in the day that he was positive the identification of the body as Druggan's was erroneous, and police had expressed similar conviction.

DAUNTLER HOME ON PEORIA AVE. IS BURGLARIZED

Clothing, Dresses And Money Taken: Loot Valued At $200

The William Dauntler residence, 1011 Peoria avenue, was entered and ransacked last evening before 9:30 and clothing and money valued at about $200 was taken. Dresses and clothing in closets were gathered up on the hangers and removed from the house to which entrance was gained through a kitchen window, and the supposed lone thief walked out of the front door.

The robbery was discovered about 9:30 and was reported immediately to the police, who started an investigation. One of the articles of clothing was found on a neighbor's lawn, which indicated that the thief, supposed to be a tramp had walked south from the Dauntler home to the North Western tracks. Another article of clothing was found along the tracks near the Lincoln Avenue overhead viaduct.

Police conducted a thorough search of the railroad yards and the entire neighborhood.

Sheriff Miller went to Nelson about 12 o'clock and conducted a search of the railroad yards looking for a tramp or stranger who might have considerable clothing in his possession. The house was thoroughly ransacked and practically all the clothing and dresses were taken together with seven dollars in money. Jewelry was not disturbed and many other articles of value were unharmed.

NEW EARTHQUAKE AND TORNADO ADD TO SUFFERINGS

Rochetta, San Antonio, Italy, July 25.—(AP)—General Daistrocchi, the Commandant of the Neapolitan Zone, today said the total dead in the Province of Avellino was 2,573. His figures added 375 deaths to the total of other provinces, bringing a grand total in the earthquake of 2,930 killed.

The revised figures contrasted sharply with the government's total of 1,526 for Avellino.

The township hardest hit, according to Baistrocchi's figures seems to be Lacedonia with 600 dead. Villanova stood second with between 400 and 600 dead.

The King of Italy was expected here at 4:00 P. M. today.

General Baistrocchi, the Minister of Public Works and the Prefects of the stricken provinces met here this forenoon to discuss relief work.

That figure brings the number of dead to nearly 3,000, as the previous report for Avellino was only 1,637 and the total for all points was 2,005, including 12 killed yesterday by a hurricane at Treviso.

NEW QUAKE IS FELT

Rome, July 25.—(AP)—A new earthquake at Ariano, in the midst of an already ruined area and a hurricane that spread terror and death throughout northern Italy today added to an already tremendous relief problem in this stricken country.

Touched to the heart by the realization of inestimable numbers of homeless, ever-growing death lists and hospitals filled with injured, the Italian people today disregarded the edict of Premier Mussolini against public and private subscriptions for the victims and united in spontaneous offerings which steadily flowed into the Premier's office.

Rescuers by thousands in the earthquake area today continued their task of taking the dead from the ruins and seeking out the thousands of missing who, crazed with fear and grief, have left their homes and wandered and wandered.

Casualty List Not Ended

Prefects of the five provinces central within the devastated area today did their utmost to bring into an intelligible form the reports of relief workers which indicated this forenoon that the end of the casualty list by no means had been reached.

Official death lists accounting for 1,883 dead were supplemented by figures gathered by Italian and foreign newspaper correspondents who traveled throughout yesterday and last night in the ruined zone making tabulations as best they could of the many communes.

Yesterday's quake at Ariano, more violent than many of the slight tremors of the last 24 hours, cost the life of one person. Its worst effect was a renewal of the state of panic which had subsided to some extent. Southern Italy escaped entirely the hurricane, which was local to the Piave river valley section and killed 22 persons, bringing to the once war-torn area a total of 2,930.

Mrs. Voris pleaded guilty to the assault and was fined $10. She declared she had acted in self defense when Hopkins became angered and cursed her because he misunderstood her friendly exchange of "baas" with her lamb.

GOT DATES MIXED

Hammond, Ind., July 25.—(AP)—The swains of pretty Charlotte Seidenstopp, 18 years old and red-headed, turned out to be a riot yesterday.

Either Charlotte got her dates mixed or her 11 suitors did, for they all showed up to escort her home from work. The young woman, desiring to be absolutely fair and impartial, hit upon the idea of having the 11 young men fight it out for her favor. She suggested something along the line of a battle royal, with swains fighting en masse, the survivor to see her home.

The swains went to work, bluff, bluff, crash.

When police Captain Charles Carlson and two squads arrived the swains were mixing it fast and furious. In a minute thin sticks were tapping youthful heads.

Twelve persons were taken to jail, the twelfth being Miss Charlotte Seidenstopp.

AUTO ACCIDENT:
MINOR INJURIESHis Car Was Struck By Another Near His Home Last Eve

Attorney Hiram A. Brooks was cut about the head and suffered painful bruises about the body last evening at 7 o'clock in an automobile crash on Ottawa avenue and Seventh street in which two machines were badly wrecked. He was a passenger in a Buick sedan which was being driven by Mrs. Brooks which was traveling west on Seventh street. At the intersection of Ottawa avenue, Mrs. Brooks turned to drive south and had almost completed the left hand turn when a Dodge coupe, driven by Seth Smith of this city, crashed into the rear of the Brooks machine, throwing it against the curb.

Two of the heavy glass windows in the sedan were broken, the pieces of broken glass striking Mr. Brooks in the face. He was taken in another car to a physician's office where his injuries were dressed and then removed to his home. He was suffering considerable pain and inconvenience from his injuries today but was able to be at his office.

The Buick car which was overturned by the force of the impact, was practically demolished but the driver escaped with only minor injuries and a general shaking up. Mrs. Brooks was also bruised but escaped serious injury. Both cars were damaged to such an extent that they had to be hauled to a garage.

Won Nomination In Close Pitch Game

Herkimer, N. Y., July 25—(UP)—Uncle Dan Stroebel was telling his friends today about the hand that won him the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Herkimer county in last night's game of pitch against his old friend, Fred Sauer. "When I saw that hand," Dan told the boys, "I knew I had Fred licked. I figured he couldn't have anything better than ace, queen, jacks so I bid three, and when Fred said 'pitch' I slammed them down, one two three, and finished my 11 points."

Fred's over-eagerness lost him one of the most interesting political battles in Herkimer county, but returned for him Dan's friendship, which caused the contest in the first place.

Both had announced for the Sheriff's job at the same time and had ordered not to become involved against each other in politics, decided to let the cards settle, it with 150 stalwarts of county Republicans looking on.

While Dan and Fred faced each other across the big pine table at Dibble Farms Tavern, Maurice Kraus demonstrated his fitness for the office by purchasing Agent with a perfect score at pinocchio.

Kraus scored 1,000 points while the best his opponents could do was 490 and 390. The other candidates for the appointive position were Marshall L. Hyde and John Frak.

Insurance Collector
Kidnapped, Robbed

Charleston, Ill., July 25—(UP)—A story of having been kidnapped in his own automobile, bound, gagged, beaten and robbed of $100, was told police here today by F. B. Coughlin, insurance agent.

Coughlin said he had been making collections late at night and had stopped his car under a street light to mark his books when two young men covered him with revolvers and forced him to drive them to a woods, several miles south of Charleston.

He said that after they reached the woods, the two men beat him, took his money, most of which belonged to the insurance company for which he was collecting, and left him bound and gagged along the roadside while they drove away in another car with a third man who arrived on the scene during the robbery.

He was found near daybreak by two men, residing near the scene of the robbery, who brought him to Charleston.

Costs by Justice J. O. Shaulis in police court last evening on a charge of disorderly conduct. The young woman was reported to have borrowed a fountain pen in a downtown place of business while writing out an order and failed to return it. The victim of the loss located the woman on the streets and escorted her to the police station.

PASSED 100th HOUR

Still up and going strong! Robert "Bob" Fishbach and Somell "Frank" Solis had been in their lively 100th hour at 12:30 noon today. The boys report that they are not tired, have all sorts of good things to eat and are enjoying their electric radio and books. They say they intend to remain aloft two weeks at least. The boys are up considerable higher than other tree sitters, being about 25 or 30 feet in the air.

THREE FIRE ALARMS

The fire department responded to three fires yesterday afternoon and evening. The fires were caused by the extreme dry and hot spell. The first alarm was received about 4:30 when the department went east of the city and extinguished a grass fire which threatened property. At 5:30 another call was received to the Standard Oil bulk station at the east city limits where grass and weeds were burning. The flames were extinguished before damage was done. At 7 o'clock the department made a run to the Illinois Central property south of Fifth street, where rubbish and weeds were burning and threatened the Sinclair Oil company bulk station, the fire being extinguished without damage to property.

LANDMARK GOES

To the march of progress and the advent of the automobile is attributed the disappearance of another old landmark in Dixon. The one-time city calaboose, built in the early 70's, which for several months has served as an emergency tool house in Oakwood cemetery, is being torn down to make room for a modern combination garage and tool building.

While the building has been in service more than half a century, the lumber from which it was originally constructed is still in an excellent state of preservation. The structure was built for city jail purposes and served for many years as Depot avenue in Dementown. A few years ago, it was loaded on trucks and hauled to Oakwood cemetery where it was pressed into service as a tool house. Names and initials of prisoners who have been confined within the walls which were carved in the timbers represent almost every state in the country.

TRIED TO AVOID ARREST

Ernest Craig of Sterling sought to evade arrest at a late hour last night at a nearby dance hall when Deputy Sheriff Martin Lenox attempted to take him in custody. The trouble is said to have started when a discussion developed as to which of two men was to accompany a young woman to her home at the close of the dance.

Craig made a break for liberty when the deputy sheriff approached and dashed into a barbed wire fence, tearing his clothing and inflicting deep scratches on his legs. He managed to extricate himself and made a second dash for liberty but halted suddenly when he ran into another barbed wire fence where the officer took him in custody.

This morning Craig was assessed a fine of $10 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge when arraigned before Justice J. O. Shaulis at the county jail where he spent the night.

HOLD TWO MEN
WHO WATCHED
WOMAN STARVEPolice Found Victim
Dying As Two Sat
Morose Nearby

Chicago, July 25—(UP)—Two men, who, police charge, watched disinterestedly at the bedside of a woman relative while she slowly starved to death, were held today for examination at the psychopathic ward of the county hospital.

Police broke through the door of Jacob Pfeiffer's home last night and found Miss Dina Schreimer, 55, gasping for breath in a bundle of rags on a bed. Pfeiffer who is 78, and Joseph Shea, 37, sat nearby, silent, morose figures.

Miss Schreimer was taken to the county hospital where she died early today, apparently a victim, Dr. S. O. Myerson said, of slow starvation. "She weighed only 38 pounds," Dr. Myerson said, "a woman of her age should weigh about 150 pounds."

Miss Schreimer was an aunt of Shea and sister-in-law of Pfeiffer. They admitted they had watched her die but said she refused to take food. She had been without food for months, they said.

Pfeiffer was released several months ago from the hospital for the insane at Kankakee, police said.

MIDSUMMER SPEAKS

(Cape Cod)
My being is all fragrant with the breath of roses, grasses, Beauty uttereth herself in me as delicate odors. She prays in perfume, and voice is heard.
Not only in the calling of a bird. Unto his mate, within the cooling green.
Of overhanging branches. All unseen.
She sits within the temple of a flower.
Laying a benediction on each hour. And in the heart of honeysuckle lies.
Remote, unguessed, until the brightening eyes.
Of morning let her forth upon the day.
In pagentry of perfumes; then I pray.
As beauty prayeth, with her fragrant breath.
And with thanksgiving, as she uttereth.

Pajama Gown Keeps Vogue; Jacket Loses

BY DIANA MERWIN
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

Paris—(AP)—Chiffon pajama frocks promise to keep right on going when autumn and winter styles are launched.

Evening pajamas is the name the bifurcated chiffon frocks go under and they are having a colossal success with young Europeans for wear in their own homes.

Full skirted pajamas which fall into straight Grecian lines are most favored. Paris prefers chiffon but the people who make the styles hint that satin and chiffon velvet pajama frocks will be forthcoming for winter.

Most of the evening trouser-dresses have special coats which contrast strikingly in color. In that they are still faithful to the pajama idea as contrasted with the one-color ensembles for formal evening wear.

Coats for pajama frocks may be bright colored chiffon velvet, supple lame or printed satin or taffeta. One Parisian pajama costume combines gray chiffon pajamas with shirred hips and a pigeon ruby red velvet coat lined with gray.

A handful of style leaders have decided to discard short evening wraps in favor of mantles which are long in back and elaborately fur trimmed.

The feminine half of society got a shock at the recent opening of a fashionable night club when the outstanding style-leaders, almost to a woman, appeared in heel-length wraps.

Some women go even further and sponsor trained evening wraps for formal year. An important model of the trained type is cut away from a surplice front which crosses just below the waist.

Some of the new long wraps follow closely on the Roman toga line, with scarf collars banded with fox fur. Others are close fitting affairs of chiffon velvet with wide sleeves bordered with fox.

All the ambitious wraps of hem-line length are fur trimmed, with fox the favorite.

YOUR CHILDREN

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
1930 BY NEA SERVICE

The world takes us at our own value of ourselves. And the child who always steps back and allows the others to elbow him out of place will recede to his own behavior and keep sliding down the scale of his self-esteem—and eventually the esteem of others.

In time he will be convinced that he was born to take a back seat in the world. He will obsequiously low-tow to children who are his inferiors in mental and character make-up.

Many little well-bred children, brought up to consider the feelings of others before themselves, sidestep to allow some ruthless companion to shove himself into another's place.

I have seen so many, in fact, that I have come to the conclusion that one of the first things children should be taught is the gentle art of standing up for themselves.

The golden rule is admirable. It is one of the first moral lessons a baby should learn. Certainly kindness and consideration underlie all the finer character and nobleness in human character. But the creed I speak of need not interfere one iota with generosity. It deals more with a fine sense of justice and in showing a child that he has as much right to the consideration of his own rights sometimes as others have.

Misplaced Honors

One time a boy got up a little summer club for hiking, swimming, and other things that boys love to do. Instantly his buddy conceived the idea of organization and made himself president. The first boy did most of the work. The second boy got all the honors and "bosomed" things. The first boy, loyal to a fault, allowed his friend the honors. As he explained it to his parents, "George is smart and he can do things I can't do."

But his parents knew better. Little girls are particularly quick at this sort of thing.

Mary's aunt took five little girls on a picnic in her car. The glory reflected on Mary for a while as she was instrumental in getting it up. Her mother put up the lunch, provided robes and swimming suits and what-not for the children's comfort.

When the time came to get into the waiting car Mary expected the seat of honor beside her aunt. But tierer was Julia already ensconced; Mary staved in back with the others. Julia pointed out the places she had been to, all along the road. Julia knew this and that. Julia did this and that and the other thing. It was Julia's party. Well-bred Mary never said a word.

But her aunt was not stupid. That night she remarked to Mary's mother, "You have taught every way to make other people happy, but left her out. It's high time you were giving her a lesson in spunk and standing up for herself."

The old saw goes, "There is a time and a place for everything." I shall add that spunk is one of them. Spunk doesn't mean selfishness. It is merely asserting one's real rights at a fitting time.

A little word of warning here may be anti-climax, but I think essential. It is a mistake to try to teach very little children to stand up for themselves by allowing older children or more spirited children to abuse them, and then stand by and urge the baby to "hit back." This only

The coat-hanger laundry bag makes a nice present for a friend who is taking a trip.

Use washable print for the bag; round one end and leave a small hole to stick a coat hanger through bind a slit to put the clothes in and either button the lower end up with snaps or use some of the new zipper closing that can be bought by the yard.

The advantage of this bag for traveling is its shape and size as well as the convenience with which it can be used.

MUCH CREDIT TO MR. DAVIS.

The Philippine problem takes on a new light as reflected from the statements of Governor General Dwight W. Davis upon completion of his first year of administration. It is evident that decided gains have been made in these island possessions but more important is a notable change in sentiment toward independence; it is assuming a more rational aspect.

The people are still interested in independence, but as Mr. Davis says: "The people seem to realize the possible effects of independence. They are discussing more and more the effects of possible severance of free trade relations with America, problems of national defense and possible sources of revenue." The striking change from the general to the specific is emphasized by Mr. Davis: "The public mind has been diverted, seemingly, from vague and high-sounding generalities to the concrete specifications and responsibilities that go with independence. They are taking a more sober and business-like viewpoint of the problem of independence."

And this, exactly as Mr. Davis says, "is one of the most encouraging signs of growing government consciousness among the Filipinos." Much credit for this situation is due to Mr. Davis alone who, instead of using a big stick, has tactfully helped officials to train themselves in the art of government. This may not be the most efficient method, as we understand the term in this efficient age, but it is the most effective in the long run.

INTEREST IN THE LEAGUE.

While the United States Government is officially hands off as regards the League of Nations, there is a very evident unofficial interest, and on the part of individuals and various organizations there is an amazing interest which is shown with striking clarity in booklet on "American Co-operation With the League of Nations" just published by the American League of Nations Associations.

Financial interest has expressed itself to the tune of $8,000,000 which has been presented or pledged for League work from private American sources, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., being one of the most liberal contributors. He made the largest gift which was $2,000,000 for the construction and endowment of the League library.

About $25,000 was contributed by the United States Government toward the expenses of various League conferences.

Then there is the matter of attendance which is exceedingly interesting; 172 organizations and 341 citizens have co-operated in League work; there are seven Americans now on the secretariat staff and two more with the International Labor Office. The United States was officially represented at twenty-four League conferences; twenty-nine others were attended by observers, and government officials were officials were unofficially present at thirty-one other conferences.

That is certainly not a bad record for a country which supposedly has nothing to do with League of Nations.

FORGETFUL INVESTORS.

Apparently a great many of the people who bought Liberty Bonds were inspired more by patriotism than by a desire to put their money in a sound investment.

At any rate, the Treasury Department announces that buyers of such bonds are losing about $1,000,000 a year in interest through failure to redeem bonds on which interest has ceased. More than $37,000,000 worth of federal securities which have ceased to bear interest are still in the hands of investors.

Most of them, probably, lie in various safety deposit boxes, half forgotten by their owners. If you happen to hold such bonds, it would be a good idea for you to redeem them and put your money where it can earn an income for you. It is startling to think that $37,000,000 is lying idle simply because of carelessness.

Congress has voted to probe the shoe-string tariff. We hope they discover also how these merchant princess manage to run a shoe-string into a couple of country homes and yachts.

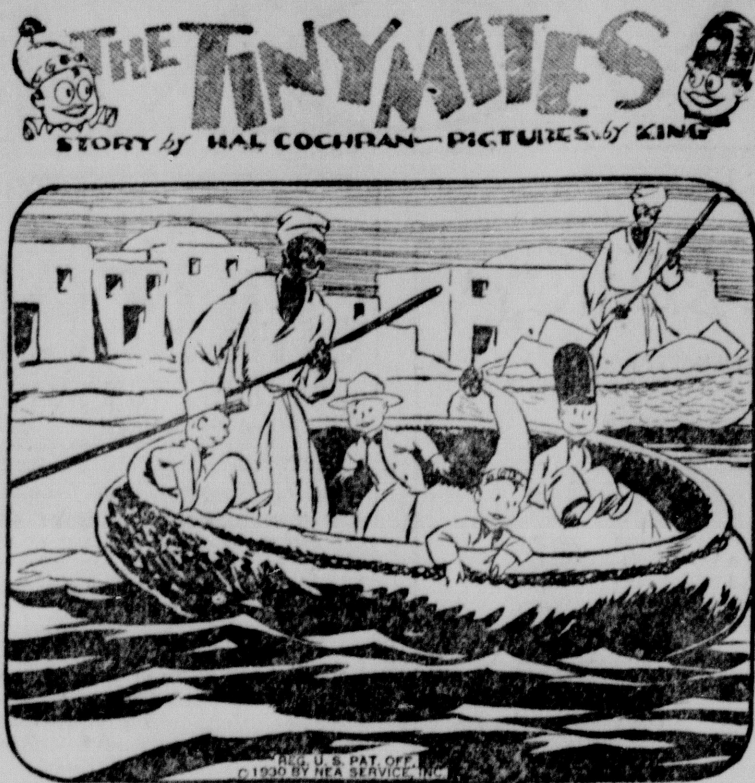

Queen Mary of England, a news item says, smokes two cigarettes after luncheon every day. But she's started too late, we fear, to avoid that future shadow.

The sights in Bagdad all seemed queer. "Oh, my, what funny people here," said Clowny. "They're not dressed like us at all. I wonder why. The flowing gowns in which they dress keep them all pretty hot, I guess. Yet they all seem real comfortable as they go walking by." "They're used to it and do not mind," the Travel Man replied. "You'll find that when you're used to anything it seems all right. No doubt they also smile at you 'cause they don't wear the clothes you do. In little suits like Tynites wear, you likely look a sight."

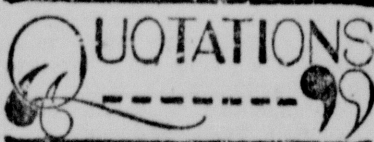

Then Scouty broke right in and cried, "Well, anyway, I'm satisfied! Come on, let's look around a bit and see what we can see. Some of the buildings look like clay. I'd think they'd crack and fall away. And, gee, how strange the streets all look. They're narrow as can be." They walked around beneath the sun until it ceased to be much fun. "Hey this is much too hot for me," said Coppy, with a sigh. "If you all want to walk a bit, I'll wait here. In the shade I'll sit." "Oh, no! We're going to rest up too," he heard the others cry.

They sat for just a little while. Then Coppy broke out in a smile. "Oh, look!" said he. "I see a stream. I'll bet it's cool down there." "Why that's the Tigris river, lad," replied the Travel Man. "I'm glad that you are right near by it. Come, I have a plan that's rare."

They reached the shore and all took note of quite a funny looking boat. Instead of like the usual boat, 'twas absolutely round. "Hop in," the Travel Man cried out. "We'll find what this is all about." And, so they did and shortly on a river trip were bound.

LEWIS AND CLARK

On July 25, 1805, the Lewis and Clark expedition discovered the three forks of the Missouri river and named them Jefferson, Madison and Gallatin.

The party, consisting of Meriwether Lewis, William Clark and 27 other men, had started from the vicinity of St. Louis in May of that year.

After reaching the three forks, the explorers proceeded up the Jefferson, crossed the Rocky Mountains in September, then went down the Columbia river and, on Nov. 7, came in sight of the Pacific ocean.

They spent the winter on the coast and started the return journey on March 23, 1806, and arrived in St. Louis in September of that year, having traveled a distance of nearly 8500 miles.

For more than a year the explorers had been cut off from all communication with the outside world and suffered terrible hardships. However, they collected a mass of valuable information about the physical characteristics of the country, its climate and the Indian tribes.

The expedition was commemorated in 1905 by the Lewis and Clark Centennial at Portland, Ore.

Tragedy Of Love Is Sensed By Officers

Indianapolis, Ind., July 24—(UP)—A tragedy of love, possibly a suicide pact, was sensed by authorities today when the body of Miss Frances M. Thompson, 25, was found in an automobile near Maywood, on a lonely road.

At the home of Miss Thompson, who had been married and was divorced two years ago, police found a cryptic note saying "Everything will be all right now."

A poison bottle, discovered in a field 20 feet from the parked automobile, indicated the cause of death, but police were puzzled by the fact that the automobile's doors were locked.

Persons living in the neighborhood reported they had seen a woman and a man in the automobile last night.

Police believed the woman may have taken poison in a suicide pact which her companion failed to carry out.

Woodmen Officials Enjoined By Court

Rock Island, Ill., July 24—(AP)—Officers of the Head Camp of the Modern Woodmen of America here, were served with papers today enjoining them from collecting the increased rates proposed last year for fraternal insurance pending further orders from the Circuit Court of Washington county.

The new rates were to have gone into effect on July 1. Under the by-laws of the organization, members who did not pay the new rate by July 31 would have been suspended. The injunction order, however, will prevent the enforcement of the new rates for at least several months.

Members of the society desiring a referendum on the proposed rate increase obtained the restraining order late yesterday from Judge Louis Bennett at Nashville, Washington county.

Although the suit for injunction was brought by only two members of the fraternal order, Attorney Leslie J. Pfefferle of Springfield, one of the attorneys who helped obtain the injunction said that more than 200,000 members of the order in Illinois had signed petitions asking the Head Camp to hold an election on the rate changes.

The new rate schedule has been approved by the Supreme Court of Illinois but no mention was made in the decision as to whether a referendum was necessary.

A suit for mandamus to force the Head Camp to hold the referendum was started in the Washington county Circuit Court but was postponed until September due to the absence of certain Head Camp officers. The injunction was issued yesterday to prevent the officials from collecting any dues until the mandamus hearing can be held.

Baseball Gossip

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

About the time that Babe Ruth assaulted the world of baseball by hitting 29 home runs in one season, it was something 'almost as amazing when a pitcher knocked the ball for the circuit. In the current era of long distance hitting, with the Babe traveling along far ahead of the pace that brought him the current record of 60 homers, it is so common for pitchers to hit home runs that even the moundsmen who do it hardly get a thrill.

So far this season, 15 pitchers have hit 20 of the National League's 543 homers while eight American League moundsmen have driven out nine homers of the circuit's 429. Ervin Brame of Pittsburgh has hit three four baggers to lead this array.

Ray Kolp of Cincinnati was the only hurler to turn the trick yesterday. His homer in the second inning of the first game between the Reds and Brooklyn Robins gave Cincinnati a 3-0 lead and with one later run was enough to win the contest, 4 to 3. Brooklyn came back and took the second game, 9 to 0, before rain stopped them in the sixth inning.

The result served to keep Brooklyn a half game ahead of Chicago.

The Cubs were unhampered by the weather at Philadelphia and after 2½ hours of slugging came out ahead by a 19 to 15 score. Thirteen of Chicago's runs were scored in the first two innings.

The same storm that stopped Brooklyn's proceedings, gave the New York Giants a 1 to 0 triumph over Pittsburgh. The Pirates had the bases full in the seventh when the game was stopped.

Boston's Braves won the remaining National League game, beating St. Louis 5-4, and finally broke the sixth place tie with Cincinnati. The Braves went a half game ahead of the Reds and the same distance behind Pittsburgh.

Babe Ruth again provided one of the big features of the American League's day by clouting his 36th homer of the year as the New York Yankees defeated Detroit, 5 to 2.

Jimmy Fox, Philadelphia's long distance star, also clouted a homer and his circuit game the Athletics an 8 to 6 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. It also put the A's five games ahead of the tottering Washington Senators, victims of an uprising on the part of the Chicago White Sox 10 to 4. Ted Lyons scored his 15th victory for Chicago by pitching the entire game.

The Boston Red Sox threatened to make another change in the American League standing, coming within a half game of St. Louis with an 8 to 5 victory over the Browns.

RECORD OF SOME KIND
Peoria, July 25—(AP)—A record of some kind belongs to the Peoria Three Eye League club.

In a night game with Quincy last night, Peoria crashed three pitchers for 31 hits, and scored in every inning to win by 31 to 9. The only member of the blood-thirsty club who failed to hit safely was Pitcher Virgil David former University of Iowa southpaw. The big damage was done by Shortstop Bluege, a brother of Washington's Ossie, who had two triples, two doubles and a single.

Outfielder Duffy scored six runs.

WILL THEY REPEAT?
Chicago, July 25—(AP)—One year ago yesterday the Chicago Cubs went into first place, not to be dislodged. Today Cub fans were hoping their favorites would be no more than one day behind schedule in moving into the same situation.

A victory for Joe McCarthy's team and defeat for Brooklyn would put the Cubs in first place by the almost unnoticeable margin of three percentage points.

HITTING HARD IN A. A.
Chicago, July 25—(AP)—The batsmen are having all the better of it in the American Association this season.

Of the eight clubs, only two today boasted a team batting average of less than .300 and that pair was barely outside the circle.

Toledo led with .320, while Indianapolis and Columbus were tied for last place at .299.

Helen Jacobs Out
Of Game: Is Sick

New York, July 25—(UP)—Ill health has forced Helen Jacobs, America's second ranking woman player, to quit tournament tennis for the rest of this season.

Weakened by a severe attack of pleurisy and quinsy, she has withdrawn from the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Ricket Club tournament and from the National Championship and will return to her home in Berkeley, Calif., Sunday.

Her withdrawal from the national championship clears the way for an even easier victory for Helen Wills Moody. Miss Jacobs long has been Mrs. Moody's leading American rival.

Miss Jacobs contracted a throat infection while on the Riviera in the spring but she played in the French championships, the Wightman Cup matches and the British championships.

WORLD'S GREATEST SHOW OFFERS MANY ODDITIES

RINGLING BROS. AND BARNUM & BAILEY GIANT HELPS MIDGET FEED TALLEST ANIMAL

Entire Family of the Giraffes With the Greatest Show on Earth

How'd you like to get a sore throat if you happened to be a giraffe?

But think how much better ice cream would taste if it could travel all that way down.

Only the "spotted girls" as Old Andrew, keeper of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey herd calls his giraffes, never get ice cream. They have to worry along on clover hay, chopped carrots and now and then an onion or two.

Nope, no mistake about the onions. It's what they like best for dessert. Nobody minds though. Heads always a dozen feet above the crowds that visit the menagerie tent.

There are over 1600 people traveling with the big show this season, half that many horses, 'bout 50 elephants, and a whole slather of wild animals in cages. Here are some of the strangest:

Nosey, giraffe, tallest of all, height

21 feet.

John, world's biggest elephant, weighs 10,879 pounds.

Patima, the three ton hippo, home-best animal on earth.

Major Mite, smallest member of the big show, 22 years old, 18 inches high.

Jim Tarver, the Texas giant, world's tallest man.

Sonny and Susie, twin baby Shetlands, smallest of the 900 horses.

Rajah, a tiger "cub" less than three years old, weight 600 pounds and still growing.

Course that's only part of it. No end of other things—bareback riders, aerialists and all like that. Clowns? Huh! Whole hundred of 'em. Oh, yes—and zebras and llamas hitched up together and driven like horses in the grand tournament. The circus men say that's never been done before. They'll all be here to make a fellow's eyes pop when the big show comes to exhibit in Sterling on Friday, August 1.

POP BOTTLE IS TABOO IN PARK OF THE DODGERS

Brooklyn Fans' Habit Leads To Order From President Heydler

BY L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 25—(UP)—With the Brooklyn Robins just one-half game ahead of the pack in the National League, Brooklyn fans are taking their baseball seriously, so seriously that John Heydler, President of the League, has barred pop bottle from Ebbett's Field.

Heydler's order might be construed as merely a gesture by outsiders, but to those who know the psychology of the ups and downs of Manager Wilbert Robinson's Robins, the move becomes one of regard for personal safety.

Years ago the pop bottle made its appearance simultaneously with the Robins' championship aspiration and were as quickly relegated to the scrap heap. The Robins dropped to sixth place and stayed there. Now with the Chicago Cubs on the heels of the Robins, fans will again take their soft drinks in paper cups.

Among those who have felt the discourtesy of bottle showers this year have been members and visiting players. Even members of the Robins have felt the sting of the "Bronx cheer" from the fans at the Flatbush Park.

The Brooklyn pulse beats rapidly when the Robins are ahead but let them drop into second place and it apparently becomes a matter of civic importance.

Hank Deberry, Brooklyn catcher, and Bill Clark, pitcher, are among those who have felt the ire of the fans.

Deberry made a wild throw which was credited with losing a ball game recently and all his years of fine performance were instantly forgotten in a shower of bottles. Bill Clark pitched a one-hit game against the Pirates but was unfortunate enough two days later to let the Cards get to him early for safe hits. He was showered.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Corner Third and Madison
B. C. WHITMORE, Pastor
10:00 a. m.—Sunday school. The lesson "Deborah," Judges 4:1-10. The message of the morning, "The Dynamics of Life." A good place to see your friends is at the House of God. Miss Garland Utz will sing, "Two Little Hands." Music is the soul of the universe, and heaven's voice to men.
The evening service begins at 7:00 o'clock with C. W. Departments in charge. The evening sermon at 7:45 will be a "Real Gold Mine." Everyone cordially invited to worship with us at each service.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST

319 West Second Street
Regular services Sunday morning, July 27, at 11 o'clock. Subject: "Truth."
Sunday school at 9:45.
Wednesday evening testimonial meeting at 8 o'clock.
The reading room is open each week from 2 to 4 except holidays. The public is cordially invited to attend.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

930 a. m.—Bible school. We have been enjoying continued good attendance during these hot days. But why not? The heat is no greater for church attendance than our daily work. We do not neglect our tasks why should we neglect our worship? "Not so necessary" some one says. "Far more necessary if we only knew and recognized it," is the fact.

10:45 a. m.—Divine worship. May I call your attention—to shirk the worship is unfair to your pastor, it is damaging to one's own character and treating God with impunity. To be true in all of one's ways is inviting the favor and blessing of our Heavenly Father. Rev. Wilson White, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. White, a Dixon boy who is making good, is to preach for us. Let the whole congregation hear him.
3:30 p. m.—At Assembly Park in the Auditorium a rally of the Lutherans of the Northern Conference of the Illinois Synod. Let the whole congregation turn out as one big body. Rev. Eyden D. D. Ph. D., a brilliant speaker, a live and enthusiastic Lutheran, will be the speaker.
Bring your lunch and eat over in the park in the cool of the evening and remain for the evening meeting; or take your meal at the hotel. Make reservations now.

7:00 p. m.—At Assembly Park in the Auditorium, "The Union Service" will join with the Lutheran Rally. All the Young People are encouraged to be present. The meeting will take the nature of a Young People's rally. The music will be special solos, duets, trios and quartets and chorus singing. The afternoon music will be furnished by a massed choir from all the congregations; Rev. Blair, of Polo, will direct and Mrs. Eleanor Chapman, of Dixon, will preside at the piano.
You are cordially invited to all our appointments.

Big Field To Face Barrier Tomorrow

Chicago, July 25.—(AP)—One of the biggest stake race fields of the season is expected to accept the issue in the Arlington Handicap, $35,000 added, tomorrow at Arlington park.

Withdrawal of Blue Larkspur and the probability that Misstep, Victor and Toro would not start, caused many trainers to decide to take a shot at the rich purse. Loss from the entry of these four stars took class from the field, but gave promise of a more hotly contested battle.

Sun Beau, because of his stretch victory over My Dandy Wednesday and impressive workout this week, was rated as the horse to beat in the big race. Joseph E. Widener's Curate also was well liked, as were Display, Dr. Freeland, the Nut and Pigeon Hole.

Of the field of 99 eligibles fifteen thoroughbreds were expected to start, with the possibility that 20 might go. Should twenty start the race would gross around $50,000, and second money of about $6,000 would be worth while.

The feature of the steeplechasing season at Arlington, the $5,200 added North Shore Steeplechase Handicap, also will be decided tomorrow.

Huston To Resign His Post August 7

Washington, July 25.—(AP)—The stormy service of Claudius Huston as Chairman of the Republican National Committee is at an end.

Mr. Huston brought a sudden close to the controversy over his leadership late last night when he told President Hoover that he would call the executive committee of the National Committee together on Aug. 7 and submit his resignation. The President approved.

Senator Fess of Ohio is the choice of the Republican high command to succeed Huston.

Huston's announcement of retirement came suddenly last night after a hectic round of conferences.

PEACHES

The peach crop this year is very light and will be on the market only a short time.

There are no peaches in Illinois, Michigan, or most of the southern states with the exception of Georgia. Georgia peaches are fine and right now the shipping is at its height. We are advised by both growers and shippers that peaches are at the lowest price now and you should buy for canning next week.

Don't wait to can peaches, but buy now when the prices are lowest.

DANCING JUDITH

by CORALIE STANTON and HEATH HOSKEN
COPYRIGHT 1930 by CHELSEA HOUSE.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JUDITH GRANT, artist's model, loves ALAN STEYNE, her best friend. Chummy had loved Steyne, years ago and lost her memory when he was away. Now, though he loves Judith, Judith insists he must marry Chummy, who regains her memory when she sees him again. Judith studies dancing and becomes star of a musical show backed by rich BRUCE HEDDER, who is infatuated with her. Meanwhile, Chummy learns that Judith and Steyne are in love and breaks her engagement but Judith refuses to marry Steyne, telling him he belongs to Chummy. After some months Chummy and Steyne resume their engagement. Hedder tries to attack Judith in his apartment, and when she repels him asks her to marry him. She refuses and goes to Europe on a triumphant professional tour; there she learns that Chummy and Steyne have set the date for their marriage.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIX

STEYNE and Clarissa Morley had fixed a day in September for their wedding. Chummy hardly knew how it had come about. They seemed to have drifted together again. Alan took up painting once more, and often came to her for hints and encouragement.

The month of August was wonderful. They seemed to be alone in New York. Even the inveterate habitués of the Cafe Turc had gone on a holiday. Judy was still in Scandinavia.

Dumont had been to Toulouse, to visit some of his French relatives. He had come back bronzed by the sun and full of energy; but they saw little of him because he was in the frenzy of creation, working like a madman on a great symbolic canvas which he called "Life's Chop House."

Chummy and Alan had their meals together, as of yore. In the evenings they drove up the river in Alan's two seater. Sometimes they took a day off and drove to some quiet little place by the sea.

One moonlight night—a night of enchantment—Alan asked Clarissa whether she would not change her mind and marry him, after all.

So on those moonlit sands she opened her soul to him, and they went back to town betrothed anew. It was after midnight when they reached New York. She ran up her stairs, locked her door, and threw herself on her knees beside the bed.

THEN came the last days of August, and a great black cloud suddenly descended and enveloped all the little band.

Chummy and Steyne were in the Cafe Turc one night. Michael Stone and Tony Leigh were also there, having returned from their holidays. Bastien came in, white and distraught.

"Have you heard?" he cried. "Have you heard?"

He was so wildly agitated that his words tumbled over one another.

"Not What? Is it bad news?" came from the others.

"Judy!"

The one word came from Bastien's lips like a wail.

Chummy's eyes sought Steyne's face instinctively. She saw it set and hard, like a mask. He clenched his hands.

"Judy!" A great cry went up from every corner of the cafe. "Has something happened to Judy?"

"Haven't you heard?" Dumont went on. "It's in the papers. The theater where she was dancing was burned to the ground. There was a panic."

Chummy could not take her eyes from Alan's face. He was not looking at anybody, or at anything. To her he seemed like a dead man.

"Was—Judy—hurt?" asked Michael Stone rather hoarsely.

"She was frightfully burned," Dumont went on. He talked mechanically now, like a man in a trance. "They don't think she'll die. She could have saved herself easily enough, as the fireproof curtain was lowered to shut off the stage, but she saw an old man and jumped down from the stage to help him. She was caught in the crowd."

"Don't, Bastien, don't!" said Tony Leigh in a voice that positively ached. "Judy—Judy caught in a panic crowd—tiny little Judy!"

Then everybody began to talk at once. Emotion loosened all their tongues but Alan's. Alan continued to sit there, looking like a man who has ceased to live.

Chummy was very quiet. All her faculties were taken up in schooling herself so that Alan should not know. She had seen that he still loved Judy, and he must not know it.

It began to be intolerable to Chummy that Steyne should just sit there, saying nothing.

"She touched his shoulder." "Alan, it's very hot in here. This news has upset us all so much. Shall we go outside?"

He looked at her quietly. It was as if his mind returned from an immensely long journey. There was no awkwardness, no hesitation, in his voice.

"It was just like Judy, wasn't it," he said. "To try to save the old man?"

His voice sounded almost indifferent. His friends looked at him askance; but Chummy knew that he was not indifferent. He was simply not there among them in the Cafe Turc. His real self was miles away, with Judy on her bed of pain.

THE little crowd thought and talked of nothing else but Judy during the next three weeks. It was mid-September, but there was no talk of marriage between Chummy and Steyne; and the others found this quite natural—especially Dumont. How could any body think of getting married while Judy was lying ill in a foreign country?

They were all waiting in a state of suspended animation until Judy came back.

She came in the fourth week of September, and it was Bruce Gidson's yacht that brought her. All her artist friends, with their vivid imaginations, were glad, for once, that she had a rich man to help her.

She was brought back to New York to a nursing home, and for a few days nobody could see her. It was reported that she had been very well cared for after the fire, having made a host of friends, and being nursed devotedly in the house of the foremost citizen of the town.

Chummy was the first to see her. Judy asked for Chummy, and went on asking for her until the doctor gave way.

Chummy made her way through a roomful of flowers. She still had that curious sense of not being able to feel anything.

Judy was not in bed. She was in a big chair, heaped with pillows. "Chummy! Darling, darling Chummy!" said the hoarse voice.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

GOOD THOUGHTS

For centuries mankind had been struggling to understand the Ten Commandments, vaguely aware that they embodied essential laws, but realizing hardly a fraction of the good which obedience to them brings. The Saviour came and propounded the same commands or laws, but with his incomparable spiritual insight he preached also the freedom and liberty which obedience to them brings. In the last nineteen hundred years we have moved upward to the higher levels of modern enlightened civilization.

—The Christian Science Monitor.

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy mind. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

—Matthew 22

The world needs more of the Christ, the world needs the spirit of the Man of Nazareth. If we could bring into the relations of humanity, among ourselves and among the nations of the earth, the brotherhood that was taught by the Christ, we would have a new hope for humanity throughout the globe.

—Warren G. Harding.

The whole foundation of enlightened civilization in government, in society, and in business rests on religion.

—Calvin Coolidge

When thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.

—Isaiah 26.

PERFORATION OF STOMACH

By H. E. Randall, M. D., Flint, Michigan.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

There are but a few diseases which afflict mankind in which the patient can tell the exact minute that the attack started. A case of perforation will say that "I was taken sick at 1:15" or if a clerk, "I was reaching for a box when I had a sudden pain in the stomach." Or again, "I was waiting for a street car when the pain started." A mechanic will tell that he was pushing a lever when the pain struck him like a knife.

Accompanying the pain is shock. Sometimes the patient falls to the floor and has to have help to his home or hospital. The amount of shock is proportional to the size of the perforation. A small pin point perforation in a strong, hardy man may not be accompanied by faintness and in one case a man walked several blocks to his home, but this is unusual.

Sudden pain in the stomach with shock or faintness is the most characteristic symptom of acute perforation.

In a short time the muscles of the abdomen contract and the abdomen has a boardlike feel. The physician calls this rigidity, and it spreads to all the muscles covering the abdominal organs.

So characteristic are the symptoms of acute perforation that many times the orderlies in our hospitals have made a correct diagnosis in a case just entering the hospital. There is no disease of the abdomen in which the diagnosis is so easy! One is aware of this condition. The pinched features of the face, the lack of color, the rising pulse are warning signs that the patient's life is in danger. The sudden pain in the stomach, the shock and the rigidity of the muscles are all the symptoms necessary to make a positive diagnosis.

In most cases the patients have been having some stomach trouble. There will be a history of pain in the stomach two or three hours after meals. This pain has been relieved by eating, the patients have often carried crackers or other food to bed at night to give relief if the pain should be felt. The pain after meals will last for a few days or a few weeks when the patient will have a period of complete relief. Especially will this story be true in the earlier history of peptic ulcer of the stomach or duodenum. One of the peculiar features is that even when the patient is having the pain regularly after meals, there will be no pain before breakfast. These recurring periods of pains and then of relief often six months apart is a peculiar feature of this disease although the ulcer is present just the same in the period of relief as in the period of regular pain after meals.

There are no tragedies of the abdomen more dangerous than acute perforations and recovery depends on prompt diagnosis and operations. The earlier the operation the greater are the chance of recovery. But few recover if operated as late as twenty-four hours after rupture of the ulcer. The surgeon prefers to operate within four hours if possible because food and gastric secretions are being constantly poured out into the peritoneal cavity, and the earlier the closure of the rupture the less the soiling of the peritoneum.

Sudden pain in the stomach, with shock accompanied by rigidity of the abdominal muscles in a patient giving a history of period of pain two hours after meals, mean acute perforation and requires prompt diagnosis and operation if death is to be averted.
